The Honorable David Scott
Ranking Member
House Agriculture Committee

January 10, 2024

Dear Chair Stabenow, Ranking Member Boozman, Chair Thompson Johnson and Ranking Member Scott,

We write to express our strong opposition to any efforts to limit longstanding state and local authority to protect people, animals, and the environment by regulating pesticides. As Congress considers legislation related to agriculture, including the reauthorization of the Farm Bill and Fiscal Year 2024 appropriations bills, we urge you to ensure that state, county, and local governments retain the right to protect their communities and set policies that best suit our local needs.

The Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA) establishes the authority of the Environmental Protection Agency to oversee the registration, distribution, sale, and use of pesticides in the United States. Congress has long considered FIFRA to set a federal floor for pesticide policy, and under FIFRA, state, county, and local governments possess authority to enact supplementary standards. Hundreds of towns and cities have adopted laws and ordinances related to pesticide safety. These include laws to restrict pesticide use near schools, parks, and playgrounds, protect drinking water supplies and wildlife, provide consumers with adequate information to make informed decisions about use and exposure, and equip workers with information and tools to minimize occupational risk.

The Supreme Court has ruled that democratically elected local governments hold the power to address the specific needs of their communities. State and local governments are often best positioned to respond quickly to emerging risks within our communities, and proposals to weaken our ability to respond could have a significant impact on public safety.

H.R. 4288, the Agricultural Labeling Uniformity Act would forbid states from enacting and enforcing supplemental requirements for warnings or other information, such as potential antidotes. Depriving consumers of this information is harmful to the public interest, and would likely make it harder for our injured constituents to seek justice against irresponsible companies.

As the House continues its work in the 118th Congress, we urge you to reject H.R. 4288 and any harmful pesticide policy riders that would diminish local authority. Thank you for your consideration of this request.

Sincerely,

Mayor Pro Tem JJ Trout, Golden, CO
